Succeeding at IUB

Get involved! Tap into resources that will help you thrive:

- Assigned academic & career advisors
- Peer coaches, Student Academic Center, Writing Tutorial Services, much more
- BeInvolved; student activities
- Campus and local culture
- Counseling and Psychological Services (CAPS)
Succeeding at IUB
Transferring to a new school is challenging:

- Be flexible and open minded about first semester courses and exploring majors.
- Questions are welcome!
- Use the many online resources, and the people, at your disposal
Succeeding at IUB

Transferring to a new school is challenging:

- Meeting with instructors & advisors = higher GPA
- Successful students get consistent help (tutoring, CAPS)
- Full-time students invest 40-45 hrs/week in academics

- Draw from your prior experience but avoid assumptions: transferring = academic, cultural, and social shift
- 2 + 2 yrs of school doesn't always equal 4 yr degree; but advisors & online tools can help you plot your goals & timeline
EDUC-X159: You@IU

Connects you with IU:
- One-on-one meetings with an experienced peer
- Guest speakers & campus tours
- Fun, engaging assignments (Themester, First Thursdays, Lotus World Music Festival)
- Visits with professors, and academic & career advisors

- 2 credit, 8 weeks course
- Just 16 students per section
- Transfer students welcome - all schools, departments, majors, programs
You are in University Division

Before your advising appointment today, fill out the transfer advising pass (take one as you leave):

Front side:
- Major interests
- Incoming transfer, test, and other credit
- English Composition, Math Modeling (finite or calculus) credit

General Education Planning Part One
- Every IUB student must meet the requirement for English Composition and Math Modeling (usually Finite or Calculus)—through transfer, test, or class credit. If you haven’t yet met the requirement, it is recommended that you enroll in these courses during your first year.
- Note about English Composition: International students may be required to take English proficiency courses before they complete English Composition. Students may be pre-enrolled in the requisite proficiency courses for their first IUB semester.
- Note about Math Modeling: The ALEKS math placement exam is required if you do not have credit for Finite and Calculus. If you have not taken the exam, do so before your advising appointment. The placement exam does not give you credit; it gives your advisor information about what math classes you should consider for your first semester at IUB.
- Indicate whether you think you’ve completed English Composition and Math Modeling by circling yes or no.

Advising and Registration

- This afternoon, you’ll meet with an academic advisor to:
  - Review your transfer credits, transcripts, and advising pass
  - Learn the results of placement exams
  - Plan and register for fall courses
- Important: confirm your IU username and passphrase before advising and registration
After Advising and Registration

- In fall, you’ll be assigned a UD academic advisor and a Career Development Center (CDC) career coach
- Check your IU email throughout the summer for relevant updates
After Advising and Registration

You'll find this presentation on the University Division website.

New Student Orientation

Transfer students are required to attend NSO. At NSO, you will connect with other transfer students, learn about the campus and resources, and meet with an academic advisor to register for courses.

Initially, there will be a hold preventing you from registering for classes. In the morning, you will attend an informational session with academic advisors to briefly discuss degree requirements, resources available to you as a transfer student, and the Transfer Advising Pass.

In the afternoon, you will bring your Transfer Advising Pass to an academic advisor and build a plan for your first semester. Once you meet with an advisor, we will remove the hold so you can enroll in courses.
After Advising and Registration

- Check your IU email daily beginning in mid-August and throughout your degree
- Always use only your official IU email account when corresponding with IU faculty and staff: it's IU policy, for your protection and professionalism
- Compose such emails professionally and respectfully
